Conclusion
Promotion of Social Emotional Development

• Oregon health and early learning transformation has created the infrastructure for integration of systems to focus resources on shared vision and goals.

• Child and family wellbeing and kindergarten readiness are Oregon’s cross-system shared goals.

• Initiatives statewide and locally are using cross-sector agencies to build child and family wellbeing and foundations for social emotional development.

• Building on the current infrastructure, further work developing cross-sector policies and community empowerment will better assure optimal social emotional development, child and family wellbeing, kindergarten readiness and life long health and success.
